ALLENTOWN TOOK THE FIRST.

The Old Guard Had No Trouble Defeat ing Swif.'s Men.

We were simply outplayed yesterday. That was all. Kelly and his Allentown "Old Guard" made any quantity of errors, but they had a way of smashing the bail right on the nose that made Manager Swift shake his head dubiously whenever he looked at Red Sweater Doran.

The game was lost in the first inand old Sam Wise to vary the monotony of the thing knocked out a base hit. King Kelly followed snit and so did old Pete Browning. Donobue by way of further variety instead of making a single, hit the sphere for two bases. Milligan and Costello were put out and then Sweeney and Kilroy added two more singles to the total Sweeney was put out at third, but the inning had netted five runs for Allentown and the ice wagons were content to let the Scranton boys take another turn at the willow.

DORAN NOT EFFECTIVE.

Doran seemed to be a very easy mark for Kelly's men in that first inning. It appeared that wherever they shoved their bat it was sure to come into contact with the ball. The hits were hard and low and every one of them counted. In the second inning Doran obtained better control of the ball and struck out Wood and Wise, Kelly retiring on a fly to Staliz

In the third Browning led off with a single, Donobus made a hit of similar size but Milligan died on a fly to Staltz. Costello evened matters for him with a double and Sweeney was the next man to get in a single but went out at second on Kilroy's forced hit. The latter was put out trying to steal Three runs more were added to the Allentown score as the result of that inning.

Long Tom Flansghan went in the box in the fourth and was very wild at the outset, giving Wood and Wise bases on balls They scored on Kelly's double. That ended the scoring for that spasm. Flanaghan had gotten his arm warmed up and the result was that no runs were seenred by the visitors in the fifth, sixth or seventh.

MORE RUNS IN THE EIGHTH. In the eighth the "old gnard" struck another butting streak and on singles by Wood, Wise and Kelly and a double by Browning two runs were scored, and only Kelly's lameness prevented at an from being prougnt home. That made a total of tweive luns secured by the visitors.

Scranton's first run was made in the opening inning. An error by King Kelly allowed Hogan to reach first, and by clever base running and the assistance of a sacrifice hit he scored. In the second Massey scored on errors, and in the fourth Phelan made a home run. The fifth netted two runs and the reventh one. In the eighth and ninth the home team was not able to get a man across the marble. The score in detail:

Massey was nestly fooled by Kelly in the sixth inning yesterday. The King was on first and Browning knocked an inheld hit which was thrown to Massey. To prevent a double play Kelly instead of running to second when the ball was hit stood close to the first boy. As soon as Browning was pot out Kelly shoved his foot on the bag and when Massey awoke he discovered that the King was safe.
